

Blue Chip Partners was named as one of the top Registered Investment Advisory (RIA) firms in the United States by Financial Advisor magazine, achieving a rank of #362 nationwide in terms of total assets under management! The ranking comes on the heels of Blue Chip Partners being named as one of the Financial Times' 2017 Top 300 Financial Advisors. At the end of 2016, Blue Chip Partners had just over $374 million in assets under management, which was a 23% increase over our 2015 level. This level of growth is a product of our dedicated staff and the partnerships we forge with our clients. It provides us with the exciting opportunity to improve our level of service to our clients, including the addition of new credentialed staff, investments in new technology, and increases to the depth and breadth of research we use in managing our underlying investment strategies. What has not and will not change is our commitment to our clients and the fiduciary standards we apply when managing their unique financial circumstances.
